

How can I use the study function in My-Message-Portal?

The study function offers different possibilities to deal with a topic in the message. For this purpose, original English sermons as well as sermons translated into German can be called up and read. Furthermore, an English, a German and a French Bible are available, so that you can open several electronic books for your study.

With the help of some examples we will show you which possibilities the study function offers.

When you call up the study function, the following screen appears first:

After choosing the folder icon, this selection window appears, in which we select the Elberfelder Bible here as an example:

Next to the "Open" button, we have the choice of opening this book in the left or right half of the window. Alternatively, the book can also be opened in the entire window ("complete").

Now we select an additional sermon by clicking on the folder icon again and we get this selection window again:

Now the two books are displayed side by side in the selected halves of the window and we can read the sermon and the Bible very nicely side by side.

We can also read the German and English Bibles side by side on the screen in the same comfortable way:

This is of course also possible for an English sermon and the corresponding German translation. In this case there is a button in the toolbar on the right side to switch on the text synchronization between the two windows . When you scroll now, the text in both halves of the window moves up or down synchronously.

If you want to study a topic in two different sermons, this is also possible. The two halves of the window can be used completely flexible with the desired books.

An interesting feature is the possibility to select the preferred index system. We have developed our own index system MMP, which addresses each line of a sermon with two coordinates "paragraph". "line". If you like to work with the index of Voice Of God Recordings, you can get it in addition to the MMP index, if available.

For the study of course also a good search function is needed, which is called „Recherche". You open this window by clicking the magnifying lens next to the folder icon in the toolbar. Then the Recherche window opens:

If you select the triangle symbol  in the header of the Recherche window, you can set the filters, whether you want to search in the message and/or Bible and in which language.

In our example, we now want to search for "Thus saith the Lord" („So spricht der Herr“) and we will get the list of sermons where this search term was found.

In this example we now select the sermon "The Rapture" and we display line 189.11 in the left window. We achieve this by clicking on the symbol .

Other helpful notes about the functions can always be found under the icon with the question mark.

We need your help: Proofreaders!

We expect to have all 1,212 sermons available in machine-translated German by the end of March 2021. However, these translations, although already relatively good, need to be proofread. The Message has a spiritual meaning that no translation program in the world can capture. Therefore we need your support. Brothers and sisters who are able to translate into English and who know the spiritual meaning of the message are invited to help with the proofreading of the machine-translated sermons. Please contact brother Klaus Machnik: klaus.machnik@outlook.de.
